

“THE CENTER CANNOT HOLD”: THE MOVEMENT OF IDEAS BETWEEN IMPERIAL CENTERS AND PERIPHERIES

Graduate conference hosted by the Hesburgh Center for International Studies
University of Notre Dame October 11-13, 2009

Featuring keynote speakers

Joe Holland (St. Thomas University, Florida)

“Another World is Possible”: The Rise of the Global South in the Postmodern Ecological Era”

Anna Clark (University of Minnesota)

“The Secret Diaries of Richard Johnson: Enlightenment Ideas in Imperial India”

Felipe Fernandez-Armesto (University of Notre Dame)

“Early Modern Empires”

Notre Dame students, faculty, and the general public are cordially invited to attend all sessions.

Additional information available at: <http://nanovic.nd.edu/events>

Conference sponsored by the Nanovic Institute with generous support from the Graduate School and the Kellogg Institute

